COLUMN A

The first column carries the recitals of the agreement and sets out the background to the transaction between the parties.

COLUMN B

The second column carries the operative provisions and the obligations of each party under the terms of this agreement.